

Desk-mounted and free-standing screens

sedus

For those who require privacy without being isolated.

Those who work on big visions need space to realise them. In the twinkling of an eye, Sedus screens can organise even expansive office spaces into partitioned, separated work areas. The result: visual and acoustic screening for the perfect, individualised working ambience.

Simple screen.

Linear screen.

Angled screen.

Threefold room configuration.

Fourfold room configuration.

Adaptable yet entirely self-contained.

Sedus screens are solid in design, sturdy in construction and flexible in function. The individual elements can be configured at any angle thanks to their smart, user-friendly linking system. Whether they are used as free-standing room dividers, angled partitions or in complex, multiple space configurations, the screens instantly create a positive working atmosphere. And the elements can be rearranged quickly and easily whenever needed.
